LSUHSC observes Katrina anniversary

Faculty, staff, and students at LSU Health Sciences Center observed the Katrina anniversary in a number of ways.

In order to provide mental health support for the community during the anniversary, Drs. Howard Osofsky, Marty Drell, Amy Dickson, Joy Osofsky, Mark Townsend, Jose Calderone, Marcy Rose, Mindy Kronenberg, Raga Malaty, and Michele Many, LCSW, of Psychiatry, gave up their Monday evening to man a mental health phone bank at WDSU-TV. NBC's Brian Williams talked about their outreach efforts the following morning on The Today Show.

Psychiatry faculty at WDSU-TV

The library created a display with photos, books, and Katrina Memory bells. The exhibit, The Wrath of a Storm and the Recovery of Two Libraries, is located in the three display cases near the main stairwell in the library on the third floor of the Resource Center.

The School of Nursing held a bell ringing ceremony at 9:38 a.m. followed by two minutes of silent reflection. Faculty, staff, and students gathered on the front steps of the school.

Occupational Therapy faculty and students chose to cope through community service. They cleaned up the Inclusive Playground at City Park and painted and readied classrooms at McDonough 15.

Our faculty at MCLNO participated in a ceremony of remembrance at the ESU. ■

Nursing honor society chapter excellence recognized

Sigma Theta Tau International, the professional nursing honor society, will recognize the Epsilon Nu Chapter at the School of Nursing in the 2006 Showcase of Regional Excellence. The basis of the award was an essay, "The Miraculous Induction", chronicling the hardships and accomplishments of the nursing faculty, staff, and students over the past year, culminating in the induction of 31 new members into the chapter.

Chapter President Jackie Favret will receive the award later this month. ■
