

CHANCELLOR'S Notes

March 12, 2010

Chancellor Larry Hollier, MD

Sanders named President

Dr. Charles V. Sanders, Edgar Hull Professor and Chairman of the Department of Medicine, was recently named President of the Southern Society for Clinical Investigation (SSCI). A longtime member of this prestigious society, Dr. Sanders became its 64th president on Friday, February 26, 2010, during the organization's annual meeting in New Orleans. Dr. Sanders was also the 2008 recipient of the SSCI Founders' Medal.

Foundation launches new resource

The Foundation for LSU Health Sciences Center has contracted with Capitol Impact to create and maintain a website to share information on legislation and legislative bills.

You may access it at http://www.ciclt.net/sn/adm/editpage.aspx?ClientCode=lsuhsc&FileName=home\_page.txt, but not from work or using LSUHSC IT resources.

Opera star hits high note in medical education

The latest Medicine in the Arts offering on Wednesday focused on medical students, faculty, and guests.

"Suicide in the Arts." Following a scientific lecture on suicide by Dr. Erich Conrad, Assistant Professor of Psychiatry, Maestro Robert Lyall introduced Wagner's "The Flying Dutchman" and explained its connection to the lecture. Soprano Lise Lindstrom, who stars as Senta, sang the aria, "Senta's Ballad," to an audience of Ours is perhaps the only program in the country to explore a health issue through the combination of live scientific presentation with live operatic performance.

This event is the fifth of the series sponsored by the group, founded by Drs. Ranney and Emel Mize. The group includes students interested in the classical arts who help organize the series.
