New Acquisitions and News

Summer/Fall 2002

New Features in Ovid

In early October the LSUHSC Libraries moved from a local Ovid system to Ovid online. This change enables access to more current articles in MEDLINE, and adds new databases to the Ovid system. Biological Abstracts, Dissertation Abstracts, ERIC, MEDLINE daily updates, PREMEDLINE, and PsychINFO may now be searched on the familiar Ovid interface. Another new feature of our system is Journals@Ovid, which provides access to the tables of contents and abstracts of hundreds of titles plus the full text of 18 journals covering 1993 - June 2002. Links to the LSUHSC library catalog have also been added to citations in Ovid to allow the searcher to determine if the library owns the title and specific volume cited. If the journal is listed in Innopac, there may also be a link to full text online.

PreMEDLINE includes new articles added to the database before they are indexed with subject headings, providing earlier access to each citation. Keywords in titles and abstracts, instead of medical subject headings, will retrieve citations in this database. In addition to the above listed databases, CINAHL (Cumulative Index to Nursing & Allied Health Literature) and Health & Psychosocial Instruments are still included in the LSUHSC Ovid system.

Please contact Liz Strother or Julie Schiavo at the dental library if you have any questions about Ovid or would like assistance with a search. Remember that the librarians will also be glad to run searches for you.

Library Barcode Required for Remote Access to Databases

Did you know that you have access to most LSUHSC databases from your home computer or laptop? For some databases you don't need to login and for others, your LSUHSC NT ID and password will work. A number of databases, however, require you to have a library barcode.

Remote access to these databases is available through the dental library web page under Additional Databases. Click on the link for additional databases and you will be directed to a page listing the databases available. You must scroll down the left side of the page until you reach a heading for Remote Access. Choose Academic.

You will then be prompted for your User ID and PIN. For BOTH the User ID and the PIN, enter the first nine digits of your LSUHSC Library barcode. Then, change the Institution to "Louisiana State University Health Sciences Center – New Orleans." Click on Authenticate and you will be allowed access to the databases.

Remote access via barcode number is available for the following databases:

- WebSPIRS/Silver Platter
- ProQuest Direct – ABI/Inform
- Books in Print
- Cambridge Scientific Abstracts
- InfoTrac/GaleNet
- Lexis-Nexis Academic

- MathSciNet
- OED Online (Oxford English Dictionary)
- Ulrich's International Periodical Directory
- WorldCat (via OCLC FirstSearch)

Remember that if you want to search the above databases from home, you need to visit the dental library first and ask a staff member to place a barcode on your LSUHSC ID. Information on access to all of the LSUHSC Library databases can be found on the Isché Library web site.

ISI Web of Knowledge Workshops

The LSUHSC Libraries are once again sponsoring classes in the three ISI Web of Knowledge databases: Web of Science (WOS), Current Contents Connect (CCC), and Journal Citation Reports (JCR). The classes will be taught at both the Isché and Dental Libraries on December 2 and 3, as follows:

Monday, December 2, Isché Library Computer Classroom

CCC 9:00 -10:30 a.m.

JCR 11:00 –12:00 noon

CCC 1:30 - 3:00 p.m.

JCR 3:30 - 4:30 p.m.

Tuesday, December 3, Dental School computer lab, room 5441.

CCC 9:00 -10:30 a.m.

JCR 11:00 –12:00 noon

Tuesday, December 3, Isché Library Computer Classroom

WOS 1:30 - 3:00 p.m.

A unique feature of the Web of Science is cited reference searching, which allows you to see a bibliographic list of references cited in a paper, and also the list of later references that cite the paper. Current Contents Connect is a current awareness resource, providing access to bibliographic information of over 4100 scholarly journals in the life sciences, clinical medicine, and social & behavioral sciences. Journal Citation Reports allows you to evaluate and compare scholarly journals. For a more detailed description of these databases, see the Library Explorer, Spring 2002. To sign up for any of the above classes, call Carolyn Bridgewater, reference librarian at the Isché Library, at 568-6102.

SGA Booksale

The SGA recently raised over $280.00 through the sale of used books that had been donated to the dental library. These titles were not added to the library collection because they were already in the library, were too old to add, or were outside of the scope of the collection. Students and faculty members took advantage of the low prices ($1.00 to $.25) to pick up volumes for their private collections. Because the SGA donates over $200.00 each year to the library for the purchase of 11 magazine subscriptions for the popular browsing collection, we are glad to have this opportunity to contribute to their treasury.

Library Requests Missing Journal Issues

The following issues were either never received or have disappeared from the library. We would appreciate any donations of these issues so that we can complete the volumes for binding.
